We encourage applicants to submit TOEFL or IELTS test scores with their applications, as it will be one more data point for the admissions committee to take into consideration as they review an applicant's package. However, applicants will not be penalized if they do not submit any of these test scores. Please note that for applicants whose secondary education was obtained from a country/region where English is not the language of instruction and does not include an English language component, they would be required to fulfill the English language proficiency requirements.
